2) Explain how the board of directors plans for the succession of the CEO/Managing Director/President and the top key management positions?

The Board of Directors has oversight responsibilities in the selection and appointment of the Chief Executive Officer who possesses the ability, integrity and expertise necessary for the position. The duties and responsibilities of the Chief Executive Officer are defined by the Board through the Nomination and Hearing Committee.

The Board likewise evaluates the proposed senior management appointments of the Corporation and selects qualified and competent management officers, which functions are exercised through the Executive Compensation Committee.

The Corporation has a Management Development Program which identifies, evaluates and assesses individuals who, in the future, can potentially succeed in top key management positions.

Other Executive, Non-Executive and Independent Directors

Does the company have a policy of ensuring diversity of experience and background of directors in the board? Please explain.

The Board of Directors is tasked to implement a process of selection to ensure a mix of competent directors and officers who can add value and contribute independent judgment to the formulation of sound corporate policies. Directors are required to have a college degree or sufficient experience in managing the business

Does it ensure that at least one non-executive director has an experience in the sector or industry the company belongs to? Please explain.

The Manual requires that the non-executive directors, including the independent directors, shall possess such qualifications and stature that would enable them to effectively participate in the deliberations of the Board.

To sign the Report of the Results of the Audit Committee Self-Rating Form submitted to the Commission.

Provide the company's definition of "independence" and describe the company's compliance to the definition.

Article III, Section 1-A of the Corporation's By-laws define "independence" as not being an officer or employee of the Corporation, its parent or subsidiaries, or not having a relationship with the Corporation, which would interfere with the exercise of independent judgment in carrying out the responsibilities of a director.

Under Clause 2.2.1.6 of the Manual, an independent director is a person who, apart from his fees and shareholdings, has no business or relationship with the Corporation, which could or could reasonably be perceived to materially interfere with the exercise of his independent judgment in carrying out his responsibility as a director.

Does the company have a term limit of five consecutive years for independent directors? If after two years, the company wishes to bring back an independent director who had served for five years, does it limit the term for no more than four additional years? Please explain.

Yes, the Corporation complies with the SEC Memorandum Circular No. 9, Series of 2011. Under the said memorandum circular, an independent director may only serve for five (5) consecutive years, after which he will be ineligible for election until after two (2) years from his last election, after which he may again serve for another (5) years. After the second five (5) year term, he will be perpetually disqualified to be elected as an independent director of the Corporation.

Yes.

3) Discuss how the company implements and monitors compliance with the code of ethics or conduct.

All employees of the Corporation are provided a copy of the San Miguel Corporation Employee Handbook and are required to acknowledge receipt of the same. The acknowledgement states that the employee understood its contents and commits themselves to comply with the items contained therein, the core purpose and values sought to be achieved and the policies governing the Companies activities.

As stated in the Employee Handbook of the Corporation, the Corporation believes that the highest form of discipline is self discipline. Discipline is not merely a restraint on one's behavior but a total conditioning of oneself for the highest achievable levels of performance. The Corporation aims to create an environment wherein excellent performance and exemplary behavior are the preoccupation of all its employees. Each employee is expected to actively live the Company values. Consistent with the values of the Corporation, the Corporation believes in discipline as an exercise in reform rather than punishment. Employees who violate policies, rules and regulations will be given the opportunity to be heard and given due process. Corrective actions are designed to provide the employee maximum opportunity to reform and desist from further violation. However, the Corporation acknowledges rules may need to be enforced with authority. Thus the Corporation stipulates that employees violating principles, rules and regulations are given disciplinary actions in progressively increasing severity. This excludes grave offenses for which an employee may be discharged immediately following a lawful investigation.

Discipline is guided by the following principles and policies:

- Rules must be clearly documents and communicated to all affected.
- Rules should clearly state the standards of personal behavior and conduct as well as define the acts as forms of behavior prohibited and punishable.
- Corresponding penalties for each violation shall also be spelled out and defined.
- Investigations and proceedings shall be expeditious, transparent, and consistent with requirements of law. Disciplinary action shall be imposed immediately upon judgment.
- Discipline must be imposed consistently.

F. RISK MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

1) Disclose the following:

(a) Overall risk management philosophy of the company;

Objectives and Policies

The Group has significant exposure to the following financial risks primarily from its use of financial instruments, namely, Interest Rate Risk, Foreign Currency Risk, Commodity Price Risk, Liquidity Risk, and Credit Risk.

The Group's principal non-trade related financial instruments include cash and cash equivalents, option deposit, AFS financial assets, financial assets at FVPL, short-term and long-term loans, and derivative instruments. These financial instruments, except financial assets at FVPL and derivative instruments, are used mainly for working capital management purposes. The Group's trade-related financial assets and financial liabilities such as trade and other receivables, noncurrent receivables and deposits, accounts payable and accrued expenses, finance lease liabilities and other noncurrent liabilities arise directly from and are used to facilitate its daily operations. The Group's outstanding derivative instruments such as commodity and currency options, forwards and swaps are intended mainly for risk management purposes. The Group uses derivatives to manage its exposures to foreign currency, interest rate and commodity price risks arising from the Group's operating and financing activities.

The Group's risk management policies are established to identify and analyze the risks faced by the Group, to set appropriate risk limits and controls, and to monitor risks and adherence to limits.

2) Risk Policy

(a) Company

Give a general description of the company's risk management policy, setting out and assessing the risk/s covered by the system (ranked according to priority), along with the objective behind the policy for each kind of risk:

The Corporation has the same risk management policy with the Group.

(b) Group

Give a general description of the Group's risk management policy, setting out and assessing the risk/s covered by the system (ranked according to priority), along with the objective behind the policy for each kind of risk:

Risk Exposure	Risk Management Policy	Objective
Interest Rate Risk	The Group manages its interest cost by using an optimal combination of fixed and variable rate debt instruments. Management is responsible for monitoring the prevailing market-based interest rate and ensures that the mark-up rates charged on its borrowings are optimal and benchmarked against the rates charged by other creditor banks. On the other hand, the Group's investment policy is to maintain an adequate yield to match or reduce the net interest cost from its borrowings pending the deployment of funds to their intended use in the Group's operations and working capital management. However, the Group invests only in high-quality securities while maintaining the necessary diversification to avoid concentration risk. In managing interest rate risk, the Group aims to reduce the impact of short-term fluctuations on the Group's earnings. Over the longer term, however, permanent changes in interest rates would have an impact on profit or loss.	Interest rate risk is the risk that future cash flows from a financial instrument (cash flow interest rate risk) or its fair value (fair value interest rate risk) will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Group's exposure to changes in interest rates relates primarily to the Group's long-term borrowings and investment securities. Investments acquired or borrowings issued at fixed rates expose the Group to fair value interest rate risk. On the other hand, investment securities acquired or borrowings issued at variable rates expose the Group to cash flow interest rate risk.
Foreign Currency Risk	Short-term currency forward contracts (deliverable and non-deliverable) and options are entered into to manage foreign currency risks arising from importations, revenue and expense transactions, and other foreign currency-denominated obligations. Currency swaps are entered into to manage foreign currency risks relating to long-	The Group's functional currency is the Philippine peso, which is the denomination of the bulk of the Group's revenues. The Group's exposure to foreign currency risk results from significant movements in foreign exchange rates that adversely affect the foreign currency-denominated transactions of the Group. The Group's risk management

	term foreign currency-denominated borrowings. The management of foreign currency risk is also supplemented by monitoring the sensitivity of the Group's financial instruments to various foreign currency exchange rate scenarios. Foreign exchange movements affect reported equity in the following ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • retained earnings arising from increases or decreases in unrealized and realized foreign exchange gains or losses; • translation reserves arising from increases or decreases in foreign exchange gains or losses recognized directly as part of other comprehensive income; and • hedging reserves arising from increases or decreases in foreign exchange gains or losses of the hedged item and the hedging instrument. 	objective with respect to foreign currency risk is to reduce or eliminate earnings volatility and any adverse impact on equity. The Group enters into foreign currency hedges using a combination of non-derivative and derivative instruments such as foreign currency forwards, options or swaps to manage its foreign currency risk exposure.
Commodity Price Risk	The Parent Company enters into commodity derivative transactions on behalf of its subsidiaries and affiliates to reduce cost by optimizing purchasing synergies within the Group and managing inventory levels of common materials.	Commodity price risk is the risk that future cash flows from a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in commodity prices. The Group enters into various commodity derivatives to manage its price risks on strategic commodities. Commodity hedging allows stability in prices, thus offsetting the risk of volatile market fluctuations. Through hedging, prices of commodities are fixed at levels acceptable to the Group, thus protecting raw material cost and preserving margins. For hedging transactions, if prices go down, hedge positions may show marked-to-market losses; however, any loss in the marked-to-market position is offset by the resulting lower physical raw material cost.

Liquidity Risk	The Group constantly monitors and manages its liquidity position, liquidity gaps and surplus on a daily basis. A committed stand-by credit facility from several local banks is also available to ensure availability of funds when necessary. The Group also uses derivative instruments such as forwards and swaps to manage liquidity.	Liquidity risk pertains to the risk that the Group will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities that are settled by delivering cash or another financial asset. The Group's objectives to manage its liquidity risk are as follows: a) to ensure that adequate funding is available at all times; b) to meet commitments as they arise without incurring unnecessary costs; c) to be able to access funding when needed at the least possible cost; and d) to maintain an adequate time spread of refinancing maturities.
Credit Risk	The Group has regular internal control reviews to monitor the granting of credit and management of credit exposures.	Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Group if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Group's trade and other receivables and investment securities. The Group manages its credit risk mainly through the application of transaction limits and close risk monitoring. It is the Group's policy to enter into transactions with a wide diversity of creditworthy counterparties to mitigate any significant concentration of credit risk.

The Corporation is guided by the following principles in the design of the salaries and wages of its employees:

- Internal Equity

The principle creates a hierarchy where positions are valued or equated based on comparable work, responsibility and output. Jobs with more complex content and greater accountability receive commensurably higher pay. The Corporation utilizes a job evaluation system to ensure the foregoing.

- External Competitiveness

The Corporation's pay scale is competitive with those of comparable companies in the business community. The objective of this principle is to attract external candidates and promote employee retention.

- Business Affordability

Salary structures while affected by the need to be externally competitive are still anchored on the Corporation's financial capability to pay in order to achieve business performance and continued operations. This principle reinforced the thinking that the Corporation's ability to improve salaries and wages is largely dependent on its bottom-line to which every employee has a personal contribution to make. The principle promotes a personal stake from each employee to improve the Corporation's business performance.

- Performance-based

The Corporation believes that good performance must be appropriately rewarded. There is a tight link between the Corporation's Performance Management System and its rewards systems. This principle supports the value of teamwork since employees are measured not only in their individual performance but also in the performance of their team, encouraging them to have an active concern for those in the team.

- Non-financial Rewards

The Corporation uses alternative forms of recognition to reward performance. The different business units are encouraged to develop programs such as citations, awards, performance feedback and mentoring to guide good performers.

3) What are the company's procedures for handling complaints by employees concerning illegal (including corruption) and unethical behaviour? Explain how employees are protected from retaliation.

The Corporation has an established whistle-blowing policy aimed at encouraging employees to speak out and call the attention of Management to any suspected wrongdoing which is contrary to the principles of the Code of Ethics and violations of the Corporation's rules and regulations. The policy aims to protect the whistle blower from retribution or retaliation, and provides a disincentive to passively allowing the commission of wrongful conduct. The whistle blowing policy provides for procedures for interested parties to communicate, even anonymously, concerns regarding accounting, internal accounting, auditing or financial reporting matters directly to the SMC Audit Committee.

Excerpts from the Minutes of the Annual Stockholders' Meeting of the Corporation on June 11, 2013:

"A stockholder asked how much progress has the Company had in terms of its objective to turn-around Philippine Airlines (PAL). The Chairman requested the Vice Chairman to respond to the question. Mr. Ramon S. Ang advised that PAL has already made substantial progress in executing its strategy which includes fleet modernization, route expansion and improving services. In addition, the labor issues of PAL have already been addressed. With the re-fleeting of PAL, the use of the new aircraft will result in significant savings for PAL and will provide relief from the high operating and maintenance costs which has resulted in low revenues. Upon completion of the re-fleeting, PAL will have the youngest fleet in the region.

By way of response to the question of another stockholder, the Chairman stated that the Company does not intend to sell its stake in the Beer business. A follow up question was asked on whether San Miguel Brewery Inc. ("SMB") will be listed at the Philippine Stock Exchange ("PSE") and the Chairman replied that, there are plans to re-list SMB at the PSE.

A stockholder inquired when the construction of the NAIA Expressway project ("NAIA-Ex") will start. The Vice-Chairman replied that the Company has paid the Philippine government P11 Billion as upfront fee and is awaiting the delivery by the Philippine government of the right of way ("ROW"). When the ROW obligations of the government are complied with, the construction of the NAIA-Ex will begin. The estimated duration of the construction is approximately three (3) years.

A stockholder asked for confirmation on the reports that the Tarlac Pangasinan La Union Expressway ("TPLEX") Project will be extended up to Ilocos Norte. The Chairman confirmed that the concession for the TPLEX Project may include an extension of the tollways to Laoag, Ilocos Norte.

A stockholder inquired whether the Company is taking steps to ensure that its products are more natural or organic-based. The Chairman responded that there are some steps taken in that direction. However, he expressed his opinion that due to the needs of the population, it is not feasible for all food products to be organic as this will limit the volume of production.

A stockholder addressed a question to the Vice-Chairman on the compliance of PAL with the minimum public ownership requirement set by the PSE. Mr. Ang stated that PAL will be able to comply with this requirement and will not be delisted from the PSE.

A stockholder congratulated the Chairman and the members of the Board of Directors on the good performance of the Company despite the crisis that the country experienced the previous year. He added that the good performance of the Company is attributable to good management.

Another stockholder made a suggestion to the Company on the distribution of meals and souvenir items during the stockholders' meeting. He remarked that the distribution should be more orderly and given in appreciation for the effort made by the stockholders in attending the meeting.

Another stockholder reported that there are instances when the pricing of beer products such as Red Horse Beer are not standardized. He suggested that there should be an effort to standardize it for the benefit of the consumers. The Chairman noted his suggestion.

A stockholder inquired on the trading price of the shares of the Company. Another stockholder inquired on the same matter, noting that the price per share of the common share of the Company has gone down from P160 to P90. The Vice Chairman, Mr. Ang replied that the stock market experienced a period of speculation resulting into selling which also affected the stock price of the Company. Mr. Ang expressed the belief that because of strong fundamentals of the Company, the market will eventually realize and understand its value which will, optimistically, result in an increase in the share price.

A stockholder complained on the distribution of meal stubs for those who are attending the stockholders meeting. Another stockholder complained on the availability of comfort rooms which are wheel chair accessible. The Chairman noted the complaints and remarked that improvements will be made to cater to the comfort of the stockholders.

Finally, a stockholder congratulated the Chairman and President for the good performance of the Company for the previous year.”
